Signs that Your Windows Need Replacement

---

If one of these signs that it's time to replace windows applies to your home in Murray, Utah, you should compare energy-efficient window replacement options and pricing:

The windows are broken, and some are even coming apart.

The window frames are splitting or cracking.

The house has drafts and is uncomfortable.

The windows are not energy efficient.

Monthly utility costs are excessive.

---

The HVAC system is being overworked compensating for the windows' inefficiency.

The windows no longer operate properly.

The windows are hard to open and close, or they do not lock.

Upgraded windows would increase the property value.

More energy-efficient windows would be better for the resale value of the home.

The aesthetic design makes the house look dated.

The windows are an old style, and an updated style would help update the home.

Newer designs are available with greater functionality and durability.

The windows are an eyesore that brings down the look of the whole neighborhood.

The financial advantages of replacing windows outweigh the cost of new ones.

New, energy-efficient windows can be greater than the cost of keeping the old ones.
